

AdoOnline Newsletter

AdoOnline is an electronic newsletter on adolescent Girls and Boys in the Arab region. Its main goals are twofold. First, accumulate knowledge and raise awareness of the conditions of adolescent boys and girls in the Arab region. Second, harness CAWTAR's communication with its partners: research centres, practitioners, NGOs, regional and international organizations and the media who are active in this field.

A number of journalists and media experts who are also members of CAWTAR's regional Arab Network for Gender and Development (@NGED) rotate the issuance and the editorial in chief of AdoOnline. This is to allow the full coverage of conditions of adolescents, and the expression of local and national voices on adolescents' programs and policies.

AdoOnline contains news, articles, statistics, best practices and interviews. It reflects the contents of the findings, testimonies and recommendations of CAWTAR's 2nd Arab Women Development Report, "Arab Adolescent Girl: Realities and Prospects", which was published in 2003.
