BACKGROUND

Established in 1993 to contribute to the empowerment of Arab women, economically, socially and politically through Gender and Human rights approaches the Center of Arab Women for Training and Research/CAWTAR¹ is a non-profit independent regional centre, enjoying an international legal personality. To achieve its mission, CAWTAR generates knowledge in order to produce a base of evidence and enhance technical and institutional capacity in the region (governmental institutions and non-governmental organizations). CAWTAR promotes and advocates for gender equality and the empowerment of women in decision- making positions” in ways that ensure women and men in the Arab states region to become fully enjoying their human rights as an integral part of the development of their communities and societies.

For that purpose, CAWTAR seeks the services of qualified and experienced Policy analysts/gender auditors, 2 per country -with a total of 12 for the six countries covered by the project- and 1 regional gender analyst coordinator to assess and analyze the situation of women in national economies with focus on Gender & trade.

Reporting to the project manager/team leader, the consultants’ team will comprise the 3 following members:

- The senior consultant at regional level
- 2 sub-regional consultants, one for North Africa (Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia) and the other for the Middle East (Egypt, Jordan and Lebanon) to produce Actor’s mapping and profiling of economic enterprises (in public and private sector) supported by a rapid assessment and conduct a Gender-Responsive Value-Chain Analysis/ GSVCA.

Problem and context analysis with focus of change processes

As other regions, in MENA region, entrepreneurship and private sector development are fundamental to economic growth and are significant sources of women’s employment. As entrepreneurs, women create jobs and grow national economies. In many parts of the world where women have limited access to jobs, micro and small enterprise are their main source of income. With income earned from their businesses, evidences demonstrate that women can support their families and communities to prosper from one part and contribute to development of their country from another part. Yet women continue to encounter gender-specific obstacles that cannot be easily overcome without external help. Discriminatory laws, policies and attitudes often make it difficult for them to access land, financial services, technology, training and markets. Creating an enabling environment by addressing these obstacles is important, including through providing start-up funding or loans, access to banking as well as business and financial training. Removing legislative barriers, can also assist women establish and grow their businesses². To increase their economic participation and empowerment including the access to trade markets, women need mentoring, self-empowerment, capacity building and training as well as support to leadership roles, which require specific skills and competencies. They also need to be part of private sector policy development. This will also require special efforts such as creating conducive environment for women entrepreneurship promotion and integration in business and trade markets in addressing the above identified constraints and challenges.

This consultancy will contribute to the achievement of the specific measurable expected output 1 of the project as herewith detailed:

Output 1. Economic enterprises profiling made and professional companies and related organisations analysed in a sample of diversified sectors in the six targeted countries
